Vetting

The vetting information provided by the applicant will only be used by the force when the candidate has been offered a voluntary role with the force. (Which is subject to vetting, being satisfactory). The information is required to enable an assessment to be made as to the suitability of the applicant to gain access to police assets by way of undertaking appropriate checks of the data subject, relatives, guardians and any individuals necessarily identified in the course of police enquiries. The checks will be undertaken by accessing National and Local Police systems, and financial information for those Police Volunteers who will have access to operational / confidential police systems, in order to establish any issues relating to past cautions, convictions, family, lifestyle and social circumstances. Rehabilitation of Offenders act 1974 (by virtue of the provisions of the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 (Exemptions Order 1975) or any involvement with civil, military or transport police. You must also declare if you have ever been involved in any criminal investigation whether or not this led to prosecution (either of yourself or others).

You must also declare if you have ever been involved in any criminal investigation whether or not this led to prosecution (either of yourself or others).

Some applicants do not declare information which they believe is no longer held on record. However, our enquiries will reveal incidents from long ago and failure to disclose these will lead to your application being rejected. If you have any doubts, include the details and let us decide if they are relevant. You can access the policy on criminal convictions from your police recruitment office.

We will also want to know whether any of your close family or associates are involved in criminal activity and we will therefore search for any criminal convictions or cautions recorded against them. You must advise them that these enquiries will be made. The Police Service cannot disclose the results of these enquiries to you.

Candidates are required to declare if they have ever been investigated, arrested, summonsed, charged, cautioned or convicted for any offence by any UK or non UK Police Force, Law Enforcement Agency or any other statutory prosecuting authority or agency - this includes but is not limited to:
